E. H. DILLON & CO.*A GENTLEMAN FROM MISSISSIPPI

Famous Play and Produced By Original Cast Comes to Jackson's Next Week.

The play that has gone crashing across the lines of tradition and made foolish the old-time policy of theatrical managers who and their season on April 1, "A Gentleman from Mississippi" will be seen here at Jackson's theatre next Wednesday matinee and evening.

In announcing the engagement of the record smashing comedy William A. Brady and Joseph R. Grimmer call attention to the fact that the cast, headed by Thomas A. Wise and Douglas Fairbanks, is still after two years of continuous performances identical to the same as was seen during the run of thirteen months in New York.

"A Gentleman from Mississippi" is the joint work of Harrison Rhodes and Mr. Wise. It tells a quaint but logical story of the arrival in Washington of a new Senator who firmly believes every man who sits in the U. S. Congress is bent on serving his country.

He confides his belief to young "Bud" Haines, Washington correspondent for a great New York daily, and the alert reporter smiles pityingly at the credulous old planter who imagines he can remain a patriot and hold his seat in the Senate.

When the jovial old Senator introduces "Bud" to his daughters, charming Southern girls, the reporter begins to think seriously of accepting a proposition to become the old Mississippi planter's secretary and the end of the first act finds him determining to help the Senator bring honesty into politics. This is the combination that finally, after all manner of vicissitudes, wins out and puts to shame a coterie of scheming politicians who are beaten despite the fact that they have the biggest corporation in the world at their back. The sale of seats for both performances opens tomorrow morning.

SCENE FROM "A GENTLEMAN FROM MISSISSIPPI" AT JACKSON'S NEXT WEDNESDAY.

WOOD BLOCK FOR STRATFORD AVENUE

Stratford avenue will be paved with wood block from the Stratford avenue bridge to the foot of the up-grade and then from the top of the grade to Yellow Mill bridge. The brick now on the bridge will be removed and wood block will be substituted. Geo. Nothnagle, Charles Hough, William Hickey, T. M. Barnes, L. D. Plumb, Thomas Coughlin were present last night at the hearing upon the matter. All favored wood block, except where the grade is too steep for its profitable use. There was no opposition.

The Commission on Permanent Paving also voted to advertise for bids for the construction of an extension to Wilmet avenue sewer, to be opened April 14.

The Connecticut Company was ordered to make repairs in State Street before April, where it has torn up the pavement and left it in bad condition.

The company was also criticized for the manner in which it has filled in holes in the pavement in North Main street, where it is about to wold the rails electrically. The filling is temporary.

The commission voted to advertise for material and bids for laying wood pavement on Elm street from Main street to Broad street, and brick on Broad street. The bids for material and labor will be made separately. The commission will meet again April 14.

BONAY-WEEKS SLEUTH TO OPEN DETECTIVE AGENCY IN THIS CITY

Fred Hawes, one of the Pinkerton detectives who spent months with members of the local police department in the pursuit and capture of Bonay and Weeks murderers of Marcus Nichols of Trumbull, has made arrangements to open a private detective agency in this city. Mr. Hawes was one of the successful agents of the Pinkerton agency for many years.

ERNE LUSH IS HOME TO ATTEND MOTHER'S FUNERAL

Promising Young Ball Player Was Making Good With the Giants Until Injury Took Him Out of the Game.

Talks Entertainingly of the Days He Passed With McGraw at the Texas Camp—Some Southern Observations—Expects to be Farmed Out Doesn't Want to be Bench Warmer.

Ernie Lush, who has been training in the South with the New York Giants, arrived this morning in this city on a sad mission, to attend the funeral of his mother, who died on Tuesday after a three days' illness. When Lush left this city March 1 his mother was in the best of health. Ernie received intelligence of his mother's serious illness while in Dallas, Texas, and immediately started North. When he received the telegram he wired back to inform his mother of his condition by wire at St. Louis, Mo. It was here that he received the sad intelligence that his mother had passed away before he could see her. He has been traveling night and day ever since, arriving in New York at an early hour today.

Lush's appearance this morning shows that his training in the South has done him a world of good. He is the picture of health, and weighs 172 pounds, probably having lost a few pounds in his traveling. He walks with a slight limp, due to the injury he sustained to his right ankle in attempting the hook slide to second base, and which really put him out of the running, for until this mishap he was going along in great style.

Lush has considerable praise for Manager John McGraw, who, according to Ernie, is a great old scout for the young fellows. Ernie does not speak well of the accommodations in the South. The hotels, he says, are on the blink, while the eats are awful. He always has been a glutton for food, but was often shy of this beverage while in the South. But he says is an almost unknown quantity in the South. McGraw, he states, is a great health resort. He saw rheumatism every day bathing in the hot waters which bubble from the earth. The water, he states, is great for sprains and bruises.

Ernie witnessed the lynching of a negro who assaulted a little 12-year-old white girl in Dallas. The brute, he states, was confined in the city court house on the second floor. The place was surrounded by a mob and the negro cornered in his room. The ring-leaders had a long rope which they attached to the back of his neck and threw one end out of the window. The crowd from the outside began tugging at the other end and pulled the negro from the room. He landed on his head on the ground below. The fellow was then dragged about mile and strung up to a gallows. In the way the people rummelled the negro, tearing off pieces of his clothing.

ANNUAL BALL TONIGHT OF AERIE OF EAGLES

Members and friends of Bridgeport aerie, F. O. E. will hold forth at Eagles' hall on Madison avenue tonight the occasion being the fifth annual concert and ball of that organization. Promptly at 8 o'clock the concert program will open. Besides the best musical talent in the city a number of first class vaudeville acts will be presented. The recently constructed stage at the south end of the spacious dance hall. Those who join the Eagles tonight for the pleasures of the evening are assured a delightful time. That the attendance will be exceptionally large is a foregone conclusion.

For the reason that all social events of the Eagles are popular and provide enjoyment in a generous measure. Plan to attend the Eagles ball tonight and you will be certain of a very pleasant evening.

AT A DISTANCE

In the majority of cases glasses which are especially adapted for reading and sewing cannot be used for seeing at long distances. This is particularly true if the wearer is over 45 years of age. To some persons it is very annoying to be compelled to remove the glasses every time it is necessary to look across the room. Within the last few weeks have heard this spoken of a great deal. The trouble can be easily obviated by wearing bifocal lenses. In these the upper parts are fitted for distance and the lower parts for reading. When you look down upon your sewing or book you look through the lower part, when you raise your eyes you look at a distance. You see just as clearly. They are the nearest approach to the natural eye that is possible to devise. We make lenses in every shape and strength.

CURES ECZEMA QUICKLY

New Discovery Has Revolutionized the Treatment of Skin Diseases

Nothing in the history of medicine has ever approached the success of the marvelous skin remedy known as poslam, which, it is safe to say, has cured more cases of eczema and skin diseases than any remedy ever offered for these ills.

The success of poslam is not at all surprising when it is considered that even a very small quantity applied to the skin stops itching immediately and cures chronic cases in two weeks. The very worst cases of eczema, as well as acne, herpes, tetter, piles, salt rheum, rash, crusted humors, scaly scalp and every form of itch, yield to it readily. Blemishes such as pimples, red noses, muddy and inflamed skin disappear almost immediately when poslam is applied, the complexion being cleared over-night.

Every druggist keeps both the 50-cent size (for minor troubles) and the $2 jar, and either of these may be obtained in Bridgeport at Jennie Hamilton's Pharmacy as well as other reliable drug stores.

But no one is even asked to purchase poslam without first obtaining an experimental package which will be sent by mail, free of charge, upon request by the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City.

MANY SUITORS FOR BRIDGEPORT'S CASH

The Aldermanic Claims committee heard a number of petitioners last night. Joseph McDermott, Madison avenue saloon keeper, asks the city to pay him $101.25 for the loss he sustained in being obliged to close his place of business through a remonstrance being filed against it by the County Commissioners. McDermott took an appeal to the courts and was sustained.

F. C. Schiebert, the florist, asks for several hundred dollars because of a change of grade of Reservoir avenue made a few years ago. He claimed the new grade caused his greenhouses to be flooded and brought suit against the city, but his counsel, James W. Thompson, died, and the suit was not pressed.

Several who were injured by falls upon icy sidewalks during the winter presented claims. Among them are Fred Delmuth, Mrs. Pauline Holden, Anna L. Rood, Mrs. R. W. Gill and Mary Altenbrandt.

A new automobile speedometer invented in England can be read either from the vehicle or the road and rings a bell by day or lights a red lamp at night if a set speed be exceeded.

"LEMMIE ALONE" IS JOHNSON'S APPEAL TO THE REPORTERS

(Special from United Press.)

Chicago, April 1.—"I wish you fellows to lemme alone," was Johnson's broad reply to the reporters when interrogated as to the report that he had "quinted" enough wine at his birthday party last night to float a Dreadnaught.

The "spoking" writers appreciate me, but all you ordinary reporters are libellin' me. That wuzen't wine I drunk last night. It was mineral water. Johnson was indignant over today's report of his social ap-proe-riation.

"You all have had me eatin' mahself to death, drinkin' mahself to death, joyridin' mahself to death, but anyone who bets his currency on Jeffries cause he thinks I'm not going to be in shape, is going to squander. I want to say that any statements now or any other time givin' the impression that I'm not taking the best o' care of mahself can be branded as false."
